

Producer Membership 2024

NZPPI supports your business and our industry

At NZPPI, we believe that cooperation is the key to a thriving plant production industry.

Our industry is critical to New Zealand, providing plants to the horticulture, afforestation, greenlife and garden retail industries.

We work for our members and the industry, taking care of the issues you can't easily tackle on your own.

We are the voice for plant production

- NZPPI ensures that the voice of plant producers is heard in forums with Government and the primary industries.
- We are winning the fight to keep the border open to allow safe access to plant material from trusted offshore breeding facilities. This work ensures that you have access to genetic innovation and clean plant material for your customers.
- We are supporting the native afforestation and landscape sectors as they adapt to an increasing demand for plants, driven by a focus on urban and rural development, land and water, biodiversity and carbon.
- We speak for the industry in areas such as biosecurity, GIA, pest plants, HSNO. We work to enable the free movement of plants around the country and ensure that you have a say in the rules that affect your business.
- We are connecting our industry to research and innovation. It enables us to back up our advocacy with research and data, while supporting best practice for productivity, plant health and sustainability.
- We are working across the industry as it adapts to sustainability policies in areas like plastic stewardship rules and access to water and energy.

Your Membership gives us the mandate to speak for you.

We provide a unique range of services to the industry

As a not for profit society, NZPPI is able to provide a range of services at scale and low cost.

As a signatory of the GIA, NZPPI ensures that our industry has decision making rights in biosecurity readiness and response. This helps to protect you in a biosecurity crisis.

PLANT CAREERS

Our Plant Careers programme provides scholarships and professional development opportunities.

Our conferences and events bring our industry together to share knowledge, and celebrate our success.

NZPPI has a fleet of 4,500 plant trolleys that move plants efficiently across the country at the lowest possible cost.

The efficiency and open access of our system is unique in the world.

Our Science Committee links our industry to plant science and extension. We have relationships with research institutes and Lincoln University.

Building careers and skills in our industry

Our Plant Careers programme promotes careers in the industry, ensuring that young people are aware of the opportunities and see greenlife and garden retail as an attractive career option. We ensure that the education system includes high quality qualifications that encourage the mastery of skills.

We offer scholarships and opportunities for professional development, with our Young Plant Producer of the Year competition and the coveted Fraser Award. These programmes build critical skills and confidence in our future industry leaders.

We continue to offer networking opportunities through our industry conference, innovation days and other events, which are open to you and your team.

Your membership enables us to continue our work

Your membership fees enable us to continue to provide these benefits. We firmly believe that this investment in our industry will have significant benefits for you, your business and your team.

We appreciate your continued support and contribution.

Annual Subscription Fees

NZPPI producer member subscription fees are calculated at 0.3% of relevant revenue from the sale of plants. This is equivalent to $3/$1000.

Relevant turnover is defined as gross income derived from the sale of plants produced in New Zealand inclusive of all charges (excluding royalties and GST) that a purchaser would pay.

The minimum subscription fee $350+GST per year.

Please note: To protect confidentiality, membership fees are paid to an Independent Subscription Agent (ISA).
